City Attorney's Opinion on Parks—Taking of Census Begins at Once—Proposition to Purchase Verdugo Park

All members present except Mr. White. Minutes were read and a long list of demands were read and referred. A communication was received from Mr. Eastman, one of the petitioners, for the improvement of Dryden avenue, stating that he signed under a misapprehension, and requesting that his name be withdrawn.

An opinion was read from City Attorney Evans as to the manner of acquiring public parks, stating that there are four different laws under which the city can proceed. These four laws in brief, are as follows:

First, the calling of an election for bond issue for a term not to exceed twenty years with interest at 5 per cent.

Second. Another act permits issue of forty-year bonds bearing 6 per cent interest.

Third. City council may acquire by condemnation land for public parks and school purposes through the formation of an assessment district.

Fourth. Cities not governed by a freeholders charter, may levy and collect taxes for park purposes; not to exceed 15 cents on each $100. After levying such tax the ordinance must be submitted to a vote of the people.

The report was referred to public works committee.

The public works committee reported that the taking of the census will begin during the present week.

A verbal request was received to the effect that the gas company be required to put in gas pipe along Verdugo road before that street is improved. Referred to city engineer to take matter up with the company.

On motion of Mr. Coker the lighting department was authorized to donate the necessary extra lighting for the May Festival.

The city engineer reported that in the matter of the opening of Doran street from Louise street to Glendale avenue, it would only be necessary to condemn a strip of land from the west line of the Thom Ranch to Louise street, the rest could be arranged by the land owners. Mr. Ade appeared before the board and presented a proposition for the purchase by the city of Glendale of the Verdugo Park. He stated that an option had been placed in the Bank of Glendale, offering the property for sale at $60,000. He requested that the trustees call an election to bond the city for this purpose, stating further that bonds to this extent would require a tax levy of only 20 cents on every $1000 of valuation for bonds running twenty years. He requested further that the "Play Ground" proposition be postponed for the present. Chairman Watson stated that a committee had been appointed on the Play Grounds matter and that this committee would probably meet Tuesday evening, but would no doubt act so as not to cause a conflict between the two propositions. Mr. Pulliam also spoke on the subject, urging action, as he believed the opportunity of securing the park was one that would not long be open and should be taken advantage of. The matter was referred to the park committee. Mr. Morris, who formerly ran a peanut and popcorn stand in Glendale, appeared and requested privilege of going into the same business again on Broadway above the Central Stables; request granted. Mr. Reif appeared to protest against the proceedings for the improvement of Campbell and Dryden street, the two being combined in one proceeding. No action was taken as an opportunity for protest will be offered later if proceedings are started. The manager of the light department recommended accepting the bid of the Golden Gate company on cement and same was adopted.

A resolution was passed for improvement (sidewalks) on Sixth street, Geindale avenue to Central. An ordinance passed establishing the grade of Vine street and a portion of Raleigh street.

PUBLIC PARKS.

The Committee Holds Its First Meeting.

The committee appointed by Mayor Watson, their names appearing below, held their first meeting Tuesday evening at the city hall. Mr. Watson called the meeting to order. Mr. Lane was then elected chairman of the joint committee. The proceedings were quite informal, there being a free exchange of views up to quite a late hour. Mr. E. D. Goode made a plea for the purchase of Verdugo Park, but the committee did not seem to agree with him that it would be a good plan to invest in that property, but rather to have a number of small parks more accessible to the people; four of them in the four precincts of the city being the idea generally favored. Finally definite action simmered down to just one and a committee consisting of Messrs. Ruddell, Damerell and McElroy was appointed to investigate and make a recommendation in regard to acquiring a site for a park between Brand boulevard and Glendale avenue and between Fourth and Sixth.

Mr. M. A. Begg of 874 Louise street returned this week from a trip through the East and Middle West. Mr. Begg has been for the past three months in charge of the exhibit car of the Northern Pacific railway which has been covering the above territory showing the possibilities of dry farming along the lines of the Northern Pacific. He reports extremely cold weather during most of the trip, but in spite of that their car was visited by from 1500 to 2000 people every day.

MID-MAY FESTIVAL.

As the NEWS goes to press, Glendale's third Mid-May Festival is proceeding merrily. The streets of the business portion of the city are gay with flags and streamers and numerous residences are fitly decorated for the occasion. The barbecue was an immense success, of course, and several thousand visitors partook of Glendale hospitality in the shape of barbecued beef and the accompaniments. The arrangements for handling the crowd at meal time were almost perfect, thanks to the energy and skill of Homer D. Brown, who had charge of the construction of the tables, to Mr. McKee, who was responsible for securing the meat, and with a corps of willing assistants dished it out, and to Mr. W. A. Anderson who superintended the construction of the pits and managed the details of the cooking. A lot of hard work was done by a few people to make the affair a success and among them must be mentioned Assistant City Marshal Jim Everett, who raked in the dollars that were the first essential. To Mr. Frank Showalter, president of the Improvement Association, must be given credit for the fact that the show came off at all, for he met with many discouragements in the outset, but pushed it through to success. Messrs. Middleworth and Walker did good work in rustling up automobiles to enable visitors to "See Glendale," and lots of them certainly saw it. The sports under the direction of Prof. Howe, were enjoyed immensely by the crowd and came off without a hitch.

Mrs. Mary Howard Gridley and Dr. Jessie A. Russell of Glendale were among the hundred prominent club women who left Los Angeles Tuesday to attend the eleventh annual convention of the Federation of Women's Clubs, being held at Paso Robles.

SCHOOL BOND ELECTION TUESDAY

Some Facts to be Considered

As has been advertised for the past four weeks, there is to be a school bond election held Tuesday next to submit to the voters of this consolidated school district the question of authorizing the issue of bonds to the extent of $30,000 to purchase ground and erect and furnish a school house in the Casa Verdugo and North Glendale section. It is understood that the people of that territory have come to a harmonious agreement as to the site to be selected and are practically unanimous in desiring that the bonds be authorized. There are two or three things to be taken into consideration which possibly may not occur to the average voter in this connection. By the action taken a few months ago in consolidating the districts there was brought into the Glendale city district property assessed at a valuation of approximately half a million dollars comprising the territory which the proposed new school is to serve. There are in this section from Arden avenue to the mountains and extending from the Thom ranch line westward a mile and a half about 200 children of school age, actual count a few weeks ago made them 185. If that section should ultimately conclude to withdraw from this school district by becoming part of Los Angeles or by organizing as an independent district, the school property would belong to the district in which it remained and the rest of the district would be relieved of responsibility for the bonds. The school is undoubtedly needed not only as a convenience to the section immediately interested, but to relieve the other schools which the children of that neighborhood now attend.

The site selected is the same as that desired before when the proposition to vote bonds for $35,000 was defeated by a small margin, but the amount of bonds asked for is $5000 less. Although the price asked for the property is high as is common in such cases, the location is generally admitted to be a good one. The NEWS regrets that there is a disposition in some quarters to inject other matters into the contest and hopes that citizens generally will judge the question on its merits and by their votes do what is possible to remove all unnecessary cause for anything but the most harmonious and friendly feeling between the sections interested.

MUNICIPAL WATER

The City Should Own Its Water Supply—Information of Interest—A Practical Project

In every community in Southern California the subject of paramount importance is water. A sufficient supply of pure water is the first essential for continued growth and prosperity to any city, and especially so in a place that is preeminently a city of homes, as is the City of Glendale. From the time that this section began its development, back in the early '80s, up to the present, the water system has been unsatisfactory, not because of a lack of quantity, but owing to the fact that the management has always been divided, although the water owners had a common interest.

The matter has been explained in the columns of the NEWS many times, but for the benefit of comparatively recent comers, it may not be amiss to again make a brief explanation of conditions. The water right was appurtenant to the various sub-divisions of the Rancho San Rafael, made so by court degree in 1871, every acre being given from two to three of the ten thousand parts into which the quantity was arbitrarily divided. The Verdugo Canon Water Company was organized in 1884 for the principal purpose of distributing to its stockholders their proportion of water. The number of shares in this company was fixed at ten thousand, so as to be equivalent to the number of parts in the canon waters division. But no water rights were transferred to the company, and it was never claimed to own water, the ownership remaining in the possession of its stockholders and a few other land owners. Verdugo Canon Water Company stock therefore does not represent water, but only the pipes and other means of distribution and a tract of seven acres of land in the canon below Verdugo Park.

After the organization of this parent company, reservoir companies were formed in different parts of the valley to distribute the water from the reservoirs to which the Verdugo Company distributed it.

At present the water is divided approximately as follows:

	Shares.	Owners.
Glassell Pipe Line (Consolidated)	607	2
West Glendale	390	36
Verdugo Springs	666	4
North Glendale	2128	73
Tropico (Consolidated)	1721	94
Independent (Consolidated)	763	40
Verdugo Pipe and Reservoir	1442	128
Thom	130
Thom and Ross	2027

The above list accounts for practically all of the water rights and is made up from Verdugo Canon Company's records. This record is not reliable as showing ownership, many individual owners appearing on its books having transferred their interest to the Consolidated company without having the change appear on records of the water company. This is the case with a large proportion of the 94 owners given above as being in the Tropico district and applies to the 40 owners given as under the Independent reservoir system. Should the city of Glendale be able to secure the water rights belonging to the Consolidated, free and unincumbered, it would be a considerable portion of the shares accredited to them above, but probably not all. There is flowing in the canon at present about 200 inches of water; this quantity may decrease during the summer to 150 or 125 inches. Assuming the average flow at 150 inches, it would require about 67 shares to represent an inch—a fair estimate of value is $1500 an inch, although owners might value it at a higher figure. It would be impossible in the beginning for the city to purchase all the water rights in Verdugo Canon, or even a major portion of them, but it should be possible for owners and the city to get together and make a deal for a part of this water. The city of Tropico would probably join in the enterprise upon some fair basis which would serve the common interest of the two municipalities. If the city could secure the water represented by the stockholders in any one of the reservoir companies as a beginning, it should be practicable to work to this as a nucleus and gradually acquire a larger municipal ownership and control. The city's experience with the lighting system has proved that it is possible to manage a public utility in a manner which in the case of water in particular would be a financial success and pay its way without any burden whatever upon the property owners, as it should pay out any reasonable bonded indebtedness. The NEWS favors municipal ownership of water and hopes to see the city trustees begin work as soon as possible looking towards this consummation.

Oh, who would be a school trustee,
A school trustee, about this time o' year!
He gives his money and his time
And then he's forced a tree to climb
Into a healthy atmosphere.

For he can find no other place
Of refuge from the populace!

The populace, the populace,
Oh it's to serve the populace!
If you a martyr choose to be
Just pattern by the school trustee.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

The cantata given by the Girls' Glee Club of the high school was a great success. The auditorium was crowded with visitors from Glendale and a few people from outside. Miss Viola Yorba, the soloist, won great favor from the audience and was showered with flowers by the Glee Club. Miss Dorothy Lee was the pianist. The cantata was given under the direction of Mrs. Gibson, instructor of music in the high school. It was such a success that the Glee Club has been requested by many to repeat it. It will probably be given again during the commencement exercises.

On Friday afternoon of May 24th a German play will be given in the high school auditorium.

Some members of the high school tennis team will enter the big tournement at Mt. Washington on May 30, 31 and June 1. This tournament is to decide intergrammar school, interhigh school and inter-collegiate championships. Our players are expected to make a good showing.

One of the most thrilling games of the season was played last week when the high school baseball team defeated the Occidental team with a score of 19-1.

The chemistry classes are studying the chemistry of photography. On Monday they learned the use and reaction of developer and hypo, and on Tuesday developed plates.

GLENDALE, CAL., MAY 24, 1912

Mr. William Mulholland, chief engineer of the Owens River aqueduct, is reported as having stated in effect at the recent meeting at Burbank to discuss the water problem, that there are years when the water in Verdugo canon, does not amount to as much as 25 inches. If the gentleman is correctly reported, it simply means that he does not know as much as Mr. William Mulholland thinks he does.

Returns from Ohio are mixed, as was to be expected. The state primary laws which put practically all power into the cities where population centers, make it easy for the corruptive "barrel" to get in its work and it is evident that the expression in Ohio was to some extent influenced corruptly. President Taft still has the lead in instructed delegates, and the hopes of his opponent are in the probability of some of them disregarding instructions.

Lewis R. Works and Leslie Hewitt, prominent in legal circles in Los Angeles, agree in the opinion that present state laws are not broad enough to permit of a consolidation of city and county through the instrumentality of the proposed county charter. They also are of the opinion that the same limitation applies to a commission form of government for the county. The charter may however centralize power and authority in the board of supervisors who may be the only elective officers, not even excepting school trustees.

The name of Dr. Nelson of Harvard Medical school is added to the list of heroes furnished by the medical profession. He had become intensely interested in the study of the bacillus of a rare intestinal disease, in the hope of finding an antidote. He himself became infected, whereupon he began and continued the study of the progress of the disease in his own case, giving to the medical world much light upon a subject previously obscure, and then died.

THE SAN DIEGO AFFAIR.

It is not well to form hysterical opinions about the San Diego affair. It will no doubt be found, as usual, that the truth lies between the two extremes. One thing at least appears to be proved and that is that the "I.W.W." is a band of anarchists who have no legitimate excuse for existence as a body, an aggregation of Ishmaelites traveling over the country in a war against the orderly and necessary processes of government. This much, Mr. Weinstock proves out of their own mouths and by their printed propaganda. We have a high regard for Mr. Weinstock, but it would seem that in accepting the testimony of the alleged victims of the Vigilantes at its face value, he exhibited the possession of a non-judicial mind. It would not be natural for the men he examined and who claimed to have been so badly treated, to stick conscientiously by the straight lines of truth, and the governor's commission should not have accepted such testimony as conclusive. On the other hand, it is almost unbelieveable that this band of tramps seriously contemplates blowing up with dynamite the city of San Diego as a preliminary to the "overthrow of the government." The truth of the matter will come out in due time and meanwhile it is not worth while to squander a great deal of sympathy on a lot of men who admit that the questions of right and wrong are no part of their creed.

THE POLL TAX.

Petitions for the abolition of the poll tax have received the required number of signatures under the new law of the initiative and the matter will come before the legislature in due time. The Sierra Educational News furnishes us with some details as to the effect upon our school fund should this tax be abolished. In the first place it will result in a loss of about $80 annually for every teacher in the state. On this basis it will be comparatively easy for the people to figure up the cost to their own school districts. The collections of this tax in the county of Los Angeles last year amounted to $195,000. The estimated loss to the entire state is the immense sum of $763,865. Los Angeles county will be the heaviest loser, as the average attendance in this county upon which the apportionment is based, is much larger than that of any other county, being 55,800 as against 34,578 in San Francisco. There are two classes of citizens who desire the abolishment of this tax, the people who object to paying their proportion of the expenses of government and the county assessors who wish to get rid of the work of collecting it.

If the assessors received a percentage of the tax for collection, as they did until a few years ago, their anxiety to relieve the poor "working man" would be far less noticeable than it is at present.

Another thing to be taken into consideration in this connection is the fact that it is proposed to add some $300,000 annually to the state's expenses by furnishing free text books in the public schools.

UNDERSTANDING VERSUS LEARNING.

"With all thy getting, get understanding." What does it avail a man if his mind be stocked with all the learning of the schools and of the books of the world, if he hath not understanding? The vast gulf that exists between learning and wisdom is not realized by the average person and there is a possibility that it is not understood by many of those whose duty it is to train the mind of the child.

The education of the schools is merely an instrument, a means of power; put in the hands (or the head) of the individual it gives him additional potency for good or evil. The number of tramps in the United States who have at least a fair education, consisting of more than the ability to read and write, is no doubt a very large proportion of the whole. It is probably rank heresy to express the thought, but does the "higher education" make for good citizenship?" This query does not imply that it promotes the other kind, but rather that it does not bring results adequate to the expenditure of time and money. There are common virtues which the child should be taught, at home and in the school, but is their possession sometimes assumed instead of assured? Are the reasoning faculties of the child adequately developed by the "easy learning" and more or less artificial methods of modern education? And if the child acquires learning without a proper development of the reasoning faculty, what kind of a citizen will he make in this country where "the people govern?" It remains to be proved that modern aids to learning are always valuable.

Dr. Meria Montessone's system of training the infant mind would seem to lean in the direction of leaving children to form their own conclusions through a series of simple experiments, being guided by the teacher in a manner as little noticeable as possible. The system is exemplified in an incident related where a shelf upon which stood a number of articles in use in the school was apparently too narrow, the children frequently in the beginning knocking the articles off. It was observed, however, that they learned by experience that these little accidents did not occur when the pupils exercised care—the result being that a broad shelf was not substituted for a narrow one and the children learned the valuable lesson of being careful.

Funeral Address

Our dear Sister Snow does not need any words of ours to assure us of her happy condition in the blessed beyond. Her earnest, faithful living attests the fact of her future blessed estate. We are greatly aided by the worthy example she has furnished in the devotion to right living.

We cannot consider this faithful life without being inspired to noble aspirations to pure living. She in her life furnished the example of gentleness, kindness, devotion and helpfulness in her works of love and mercy. She came to the end of life here with a blessed record of good works and with faith in God. She loved humanity and did what she could for the needy every day.

She was devoted to her home, and to the writer often expressed her wish that she might outlive her husband, who depended on her so much. It was not to be, but she has gone on to extend a welcome to him as he shall come to the Land where they never say I am sick.

She committed his interests to God and loved ones that will tenderly care for him until the Good Master shall say, "It is enough, come up higher."

Her devotion to her home was marked by every possible consideration of care and interest. She accepted the duties as from God and met all in His fear. She was true and considerate of all the interests of her community, doing what she could to aid all in the better life. She was devoted to her church and yet seeing good in others.

At the organization of the Methodist church she threw her whole influence with the purpose of the cause represented. She became a charter member of the L. A. S. and did much to make that society a success.

The writer of this address was for four years her pastor and received very much encouragement in the new work from this loyal soul.

She was an ardent supporter of her country in all its interests, giving encouragement to the cause of the Union when the dark cloud of war hung over the land. With the coming of peace she entered heartily into the building up of the cause of a united land.

Every soldier of the civil war, who aided in the putting down of that awful rebellion, had her most profound sympathy.

She became identified with the W. R. C. and was a great inspiration to her sisters in their noble work.

She was in every sence a true and devoted woman. Her work was well done and at the end of this eventful life went home to reap a rich reward. Some day, somewhere, we shall see her again and enjoy holy companionship forever. Of her it may be said:

"Servant of God, well done!
Thy glorious warfare's past.
The battles, the race is won,
And thou art crowned at last.

"O happy, happy soul!
In ecstasies of praise.
Long as eternal ages roll.
Thou seest thy Savior's face."

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

Again the Angel of Death has entered the circle of our Ladies' Aid Society of the Christian Church, and said to one of our loved ones, "The Master has come and is calling for thee." It is with sadness and a sense of great personal loss that we record the death of dear Sister Snow, who after a few weeks of illness was called away Tuesday, May 14th, to take up that greater life, in our heavenly Father's home, in that house not made with hands eternal in the heavens.

We the members of the Ladies' Aid Society, feel that we want to give some expression of our love and appreciation for this noble Christian character whose love for the Master made her seek to do His will. The church has lost a helpful, faithful member for whom are the word, "Well done, thou good and faithful servant; enter thou into the joy of thy Lord."

May we all receive the same condemnation when we shall have passed into our Father's presence.

We would extend our deepest sympathy to the bereaved husband, sister and daughter of our dear sister, realizing that our loss is not comparable to theirs. We are thankful that they can be comforted by the great Comforter Who has left so many precious promises to His children: "I will never leave thee nor forsake thee, but will come unto thee."

CORRESPODENCE

What is Theosophy—Socialism

SIR—I am informed that a citizen of Glendale has been rejected in an election for grammar school trustees, one of the objections made being that she is a Theosophist; and as the reasons given for rejection display a miraculous ignorance of the subject passed upon, I am writing to offer a few facts for the information of those among your intelligent readers who may be interested in knowing what Theosophy is and what it is not.

One reason given was that "Theosophists believe their ancestors come back in the form of rats, and they never kill rats on that account." The natural answer to this is the simple word, "Rats!" In other words, it is pure balderdash. If any of my own ancestors came back in that form, I would certainly kill them for that very reason, partly from disgust and partly out of mercy to them. But I beg to state that my ancestry was of a different sort, whatever may be the case with some people's ancestry. But if you cannot find a logical objection for excluding a Theosophist, why then you must fall back on this kind of tactics.

Another reason was that "Theosophists, like many other people, believe that our public schools are not perfect but they are the best we have, and we must try to make them better." I have been a Theosophist for 25 years, and a school-teacher for 22, and I am still both. Teaching is my chief interest in life, especially since I have had the privilege of becoming acquainted with the teaching in the Raja Yoga School and College founded by Katherine Tingley at Point Loma; and the same is true of my colleagues. Anyone in the least informed as to the Theosophical work carried on at Point Loma must know that education is its most prominent feature—the feature which has done most to bring Theosophy before the eyes of the public as a practical principle in life. The Raja Yoga school system, founded by Katherine Tingley in 1901, in fulfilment of the plans of Madame H. P. Blavatsky, is well known all over the world, and especially in California where the principal school is located. The results achieved by this system of education are so remarkable as to have engaged the attention of many prominent educators; so that Theosophy may claim to have done more towards promoting the best interests of public education than any other influence in recent times. These facts, easily provable, render the above objection absurd.

Another objector looked up the word "Theosophy" in his dictionary and found that it meant the belief that man has communication with the Divine. Nothing very wicked or dangerous about this, I think; or any reason for rejecting a person; and I guess most of your readers will agree. Of course anyone who sets himself up to be some kind of special messenger or prophet is either a fraud or a crank. But Theosophists believe that the voice of concience is the voice of God, and the teachings of Theosophy are intended to help people realize this truth and make it of practical service in their lives. Theosophists do not believe in special revelations or ecstatic states, but they do believe that there is a divinity in all men, however thickly it may be overlaid and obscured by ignorance and selfishness; and that this divine help can be invoked and aroused, so as to elevate and enoble the whole life. And that is what Theosophists understand by man's communication with the divine.

Theosophy lays great stress on the two-fold nature of man. This, of course, is a familiar religious teaching but Theosophy makes it more real and practical. Theosophists believe, not that man has a soul, but that he is a soul; the soul is the real man. But this man is hidden away under a cloud of delusions and we have to purify our nature in order that the true man may be revealed. The teachings of Theosophy show people how to liberate themselves from the bondage of their lower nature and to step out into the light. Theosophy is the greatest foe to all selfishness and superstition, and it makes for enlightenment and order and brotherhood wherever it goes. It teaches that the soul, the real man, is immortal, and that birth is not the beginning, nor death the end of its career. The soul lives many successive lives on earth, but in human form; the doctrine of animal transmigration is a superstition. Theosophy teaches that every man is the maker of his own destiny, and that every act and thought bears its own fruition for weal or woe according to the strictest justice. "Whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap." Thus the circumstances in which we find ourselves are the outcome of our own past desires and actions—if not in the present life, then in a previous one; and we are creating now our circumstances, for future lives. This is the law of "Karma."

Space does not permit of saying more about the Theosophical teachings, but your readers would know that manuals and pamphlets and books giving the fullest information on every branch of the subject can be obtained from the Theosophical Publishing Co., Point Loma, Cal.; and that much of this literature is to be found in the Glendale Public Library, where also may be seen our magazine, the "Theosophical Path."

One other thing remains to be said. That is that there are bogus Theosophical societies which do not follow the teachings of H. P. Blavatsky, the founder of the Theosophical Society but teach all sorts of strange doctrines of their own. It is probable that the teachings of these cranks may have given rise to the absurd ideas which prevail in some quarters as to what Theosophy is. But such bogus societies have no connection whatever with the Universal Brotherhood and Theosophical Society, whose international headquarters are at Point Loma, California, which is the original society founded by H. P. Blavatsky, and whose present official head is Katherine Tingley. Some of these "grotesque Theosophists" as we call them, are teaching all kinds of psychism and "occultism," and that there is a "coming Christ!" But we consider this to be blasphemous, as the word "Christ" is a very sacred name with genuine Theosophists. The teachings and activities of real Theosophists are all connected with useful practical work and with the endeavor to introduce the true Theosophic spirit into every department of human activity, whether education, the home-life, art, science, or what not. I am, sir,

Yours truly,
HENRY T. EDGE.

JUST A STRAW.

Editor GLENDALE NEWS:

Commenting on the distressing death of one of the Titanic heroes, the Appeal to Reason in its issue of recent date has this to say: "Now since Major Butt, Taft's special envoy to the pope, is drowned, it will probably be necessary to send another man to Rome to find out whether an invasion of Mexico should be ordered."

It is on such intellectual carrion food as this that the Socialist mind feeds, while those who supply it and those who devour it tell us Socialism does not concern itself with any man's religious convictions.

REV. JAMES S. O'NEIL.

North Glendale, Cal., May 22, 1912.

Editor GLENDALE NEWS.

I see by reading your paper a distraction between North Glendale and Casa Verdugo, so argument on that point is unnecessary. But why not give North Glendale credit for the large and numerous sales made there in the last three or four months, amounting to $167,000 (it is reported). One hundred and sixty-seven thousand dollars at least! More, I venture, than all the sales in Glendale south of Mattison B. Jones' imaginary "dead line." Why the name of Casa Verdugo applies to the section of North Glendale with no mail address at Casa Verdugo, I fail to understand. Respectfully,

D. E. FULLER.

State W.C.T.U. convention will be held at San Diego June 3 to 6, 1912. Program is so full of good things we need to be at the opening and stay all through. Glendale W.C.T.U. has held the County Banner for three years for most social and red letter day meetings held in the county. Delegates are: Mrs. O. S. Palmer, Mrs. Kate L. THE WHITE SLAVE TRAFFIC.

At the World's Purity Conference Seanley L. Finch, chief of the bureau of investigation of the United States Department of Justice, explained at length in his speech at Louisville, Ky., "That the probable causes which impel the so-called white slaves to continue their immoral lives after they have realized their ignomy. The majority of the victims are from good families and have family pride, but their persecutors make them continue their life under the threat of exposing them to their friends and acquaintances of other days, many of whom believe the girls dead or earning honest livings in distant cities.

Not less than 25,000 young women and girls are annually procured for the white slave traffic, and that no less than 50,000 men and women are engaged in procuring and living on their earnings."

Under the American constitution there is sufficient provision to enable the federal authorities to enact and enforce appropriate legislation to wipe out absolutely every vestige of the White Slave Traffic.

A WAFFLE LUNCHEON.

A new departure in social events was the luncheon given Thursday by Mrs. James Fargell of East Broadway. Dainty decorations, comprising Captain Hayward roses and ferns graced the table and made the occasion especially pretty. Luncheon was served in five courses, one of which was devoted to waffles, that more than met the anticipations of those invited to the repast, and which formed the principal feature of the day. Following the luncheon a long, pleasant afternoon was experienced by the six guests who had assembled to enjoy Mrs. Farrell's hospitality.

THE SCENIC RAILWAY

Glendale, Cal., May 21st, 1912.
To the Members of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce.

Gentlemen: We, the undersigned committee appointed at a recent meeting of your body for the purpose of formulating a definite plan for the encouragement of the Scenic Railway proposition presented to you by Col. Lewis T. Ginger, after due investigation and consideration, hereby make the following recommendations:

That a company be incorporated with an authorized capital stock of $50,000, to be designated the Glendale and Verdugo Park Scenic Railway company; that rights of way be secured from a point on the present Glendale and Verdugo Electric line, somewhere near the Verdugo Park to the highest peak on the west side of the stream. The cost of constructing, equipping and putting into operation the said railway is estimated to be $15,000, and we recommend that two thousand shares of the par value of $10 per share, of the stock of said company, be sold at the minimum price of $7.50 per share, and that five hundred shares be placed in the treasury of said company to meet future needs; that twenty-five hundred shares be issued to Col. Lewis T. Ginger in consideration of the exclusive right to use his patents in Los Angeles county and upon the further condition that he obtain at his own expense the necessary railway connection, franchise and rights of way for said railway, and also that he pay the expense of the preliminary survey and engineering, and the promotion expense for starting said enterprise, including the incorporation expenses, legal expenses up to and including the organization meeting of such corporation, and also all the expense of advertising and selling the two thousand shares of stock as above recommended.

We also recommend that such proposed company shall have seven directors, four to be named by said Col. Ginger, and one of whom shall be a well-known citizen of Glendale, and the other three to be named by the subscribers for the two thousand shares of stock.

We further recommend that a committee be appointed from the chamber of commerce to circulate a subscription paper, which shall be in accordance with this report, for the purpose of securing subscribers for the two thousand shares of stock, and providing that all amounts when paid in for the benefit of said proposed company shall be placed in the Bank of Glendale, to be paid out only upon proper vouchers, as the actual work of the construction of said railway progresses, and none of said subscriptions go into effect until a minimum of two thousand shares have been subscribed.

We believe the carrying through of this enterprise will be a splendid advertisement for the City of Glendale, and if properly managed, that the road will pay a good dividend on the capital invested.

A Los Angeles representative of the Humane Society came out to take charge of the child, but the woman had taken it away before his arrival.

VINELAND PICNIC.

All persons who have ever resided at Vineland, N. J., are invited to attend a picnic at Eastlake Park, on Decoration Day, May 30th, which is Thursday next. Free coffee will be provided. The attendance at a similar picnic last year was surprisingly large and an occasion of much pleasure to those present, among them being a number of Glendale people.

The first building to be erected by this firm was started this week, it being a residence of seven rooms on Mira street for C. O. Warner, a cement contractor of Los Angeles. Nelson S. Mr. Ayers stated that the company will at once start the erection of six homes of the same class as the one now being erected, material for which is daily arriving. After these homes have been erected the representative assures the company that more will follow.

The members of the Baraca class of the Presbyterian Sunday school of this city enjoyed a visit to the Y.M.C.A. of Los Angeles, Tuesday evening. They were met by Mr. Petty, an officer in the association, and were shown the magnificent building from top to bottom. Part of the evening was passed in games played in the gymnasium of the association and the evening was closed by a swim in the large plunge. The boys left the building vowing that they would have an institution of the same kind in this city before a great while. It is doubtless that if they attempt anything of the kind they will have the hearty support of every one in the city.

INDIAN RITES WILL ATTEND

The Greatest of all Barbecues at San Jacinto. Watch for the Date

The San Jacinto Board of Trade has plans for an Old Fashioned Barbecue that bids fair to outdo anything of its kind ever given in this part of the country. It is to be given in celebration of the Great Water Discovery made recently, together with the present and future prosperity of their most beautiful little valley. San Jacinto fatted steers and pigs, for which this section is famous, will be served, as a pleasant reminder and notice to the whole country around that San Jacinto is happy. It was always good, but now it is literally running over with possibilities, in all branches of ranching, fruit growing, cattle and hog raising, in fact it goes right down the line heading the list in almost every particular.

"It is beautiful, and its future is assured," says Nat Goodwin, the great actor, as he gobbles a thousand acres and plans for a mansion.

It's true we are off in a little corner by ourselves, but it's a cozy corner, and the best corner on earth for a man to get a start. We have had no land agents to boom and raise prices, making it especially attractive at this time. It's equally good for the rich and retired because of its health giving climate, and beautiful surroundings, elegant trout fishing, and all kinds of small and large game close by.

Be sociable, come over and see us, you won't regret it, and we guarantee you won't forget it. Few minutes from Riverside by auto or Santa Fe, fine roads all the way. Come any time. If you want a snap you can't come too soon.

Look for another notice in this paper next issue. Send postal for photographs and further particulars, San Jacinto Board of Trade, San Jacinto, Cal.

PARENT-TEACHER MEETING.

The last meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association of the West Glendale school, for this year, was held on Thursday afternoon, May 16th, and was unusually interesting. Owing to some misunderstanding as to the date, the speaker of the afternoon, Mrs. Houston, was not present, but her place was very acceptably filled by Dr. Jessie Russell, president of the Glendale Federation. Dr. Russell gave a splendid talk, and left her hearers with some excellent ideas of the management of children and urged all mothers to treat their children, boys and girls alike, so that no matter what their troubles may be, great or small, they will feel that a good, confidential talk with mother about all these things will straighten matters out. And above all, never take the bed-time hour for scolding, etc., but instead inquire into their affairs of the day, make them feel as though you had an interest in all they do, and send them to bed with a kiss, and the result will be all that any one could ask for. Mrs. Daniel Campbell gave a delightful vocal solo, accompanied by Miss Foster as pianist, and responded to an encore by reading some choice verses in a most pleasing manner. Mrs. Lord, chairman of the Maternity Cottage in Los Angeles, was present and spoke a few words concerning the same. This cottage is the only one of its kind in Southern California, outside of the county hospital, that furnishes room and care free for those who are not able to pay. There have been just recently two cases from Glendale. Mrs. Lord extended a cordial invitation to all to visit the Maternity Cottage at any time.

Mrs. Alex Mitchell, who has so nobly filled the office of president of the Parent-Teachers, refused to accept the office hereafter, and Mrs. Yard was elected in her place. Mrs. Padelford was re-elected as secretary, and Mrs. Learned was the new member elected for treasurer, the former treasurer, Mrs. England withdrawing her name. Mrs. England proved a most capable person while holding the office, but other duties compelled her not to accept it this term. There was found to be $16.00 in the treasury, which will go toward furnishing the office. After the election, a social hour was indulged in, after which the mothers adjourned to meet again next year.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Nesbit of 1438 Hawthorne, have both been sick for several days past.

Miss Minnie Townsend has rented her home at 1306 West Sixth street and moved to Los Angeles.

C. A. Rudell has sold his place at 1433 Vine street, and is now living in the rear cottage on the next lot.

M. L. Robinson and wife have rented Mrs. Stark's handsome bungalow at 459 Pacific avenue, and moved in.

Archie Moore of 1554 West Seventh, has returned to Denver, Col., vicinity to try farm life again for a while.

Mr. and Mrs. Hurd and son Glen have moved into the Holm place on Oak street next to Harry La Gros'.

Albert Hesse has sold his handsome new bungalow at corner of Lomita and Columbus to Mr. Renshaw of 154 Vine.

Mrs. J. B. Work and her mother, Mrs. Ward, have returned home from a several days' visit in Los Angeles.

Harry Greenwalt and wife have returned to their rear cottage at 1508 Oak street, after living for a few months in Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Myers have moved here from Somerset and occupy the rear cottage at 1517 West Fifth, where Chas. Sissman and wife formerly lived.

Miss Mary Badger, who was employed in Los Angeles for a year past, was forced by illness to return to her mother's, 1559 West street, to recuperate.

Wm. Woods of West Fourth, the big man with the big auto truck, has finished his job with the L. A. street department, and is now hauling for the Times.

Harry Petty was relieved of $20 at Venice on the last day of the Shriners' conclave, some pickpocket evidently thinking the glory of being a Shriner was enough for him.

Mrs. Reithmaier, who formerly lived at 1561 West Seventh street, but has dwelt in Los Angeles for a year past, contemplates returning to Valley View this week to make it her home again.

Mrs. J. S. Gibbs of Oak Drive returned home one day last week from an extended visit with relatives in Lancaster and Elizabeth Lake. Her daughter, Mrs. Leon White, accompanied her home from the latter place.

E. V. Neary of 1654 Oak street, has traded his residence property for a house and lot and a vacant lot in Los Angeles near the pigeon farm and gives possession in a few weeks. He has already sold the vacant lot.

Chandler & Lawson have recently sold two of the four fine houses they recently had built on Riverdale Drive, one for $3500 and the other for $3800, both cash sales. They are putting up another fine house on Lomita avenue near Columbus.

J. S. Gibbs and sons are building another fine bungalow for Mr. Reagan, the third, by the way, that they have built for him. This last one is on Central avenue between Sixth and Seventh. All these houses have wide porch arch in front and Mr. Gibbs seems in them to have solved the vexing problem of how to prevent the roof over the arch from sagging.

The lighting department has been quite busy the past two weeks stringing electric light wires on the big poles recently erected all over the Valley View Tract, and soon will shine out in splendor every night. The telephone companies, particularly the Home, was put to great inconvenience while the wires were being strung, frequent breaks occurring during the progress of th ework.

Valley View residents do not take it kindly that they are left out entirely on the schoolhouse question. A new building may be sadly needed in the Casa Verdugo region, though the site selected is quite close to the so-called West Glendale schoolhouse, but nowhere in the city is there so wide a space with no school facilities at all as in Valley View Tract. Sound the slogan: "A new schoolhouse for Valley View."
